

Yearbook Staff Elects Panuska Editor-In-Chief

J. Allan Panuska was elected Editor-in-Chief of the 1948 Evergreen Yearbook at a meeting of the Yearbook staff in the President's office on the evening of Friday, June 13.

The Yearbook will be published collectively by the January, May and July, 1948, classes. John Plunkett became Associate Editor for the January Class, Theodore Heying for the May class, and Richard Rebbert for the July group.

Staff Meeting Due

The 17 representatives of the three classes present at the meeting comprise the staff so far. New members will be added at the discretion of the Editor-in-Chief, and applicants should see him. A meeting of the entire staff will be called within two weeks by the Editor-in-Chief.

List Staff

Members of the staff thus far include:

January class: Neill Cole, Terrence Burke, Edward Hart, James O'Neill; May class: Paul Feeley, Edward Rommell, Edward Vidali, Spencer Davidson, William Grill, Thomas Gisriel, Leo Haslbeck, Dudley Shoemaker; July class: John Enoch, Charles Barrett, John Hohman, James Norris.

Peter Malloy and Albert Sehlstedt, of the 1947 Evergreen were present at the meeting to advise members of the new staff.

Summer Jobs Offered By Student Counselor

Students interested in part or full-time spring term or vacation jobs should watch for notices on the bulletin board opposite the bookstore and consult Father Higgins, Student Counselor, for details.

The State Employment Agency is continually reporting jobs in many fields. Among many opportunities already reported are positions offered by the Naval Research Laboratory in Washington, D. C., for students with two or three years of study in physics, chemistry, mathematics, electronics, or electrical engineering. Several business corporations, such as the National Cash Register Co., have expressed a need of students with a knowledge of accountancy.

Caf Manager Appointed; Drop In Food Prices Due

Although a new manager has been appointed for the Slater System operating the Loyola College Cafeteria, no major changes in policy are contemplated for this term, the cafeteria management said last week.

The only change in the total situation will be the already-announced installation of a snack bar in the Rec Room of the Gym.

Mr. Carl Rose, newly-appointed manager of the southern district of the Slater system, announced that beginning in September it will be his aim "to have every student eat at the Caf."

Mid-Summer Informal Planned By Council

An informal dance, the final social event of the school year, will be sponsored by the Student Council on the evening of Saturday, July 12. The affair will be held in the Gymnasium and dress will be informal.

Announcement of plans for the dance came after the Council meeting last Monday. Thus far no definite decisions have been reached regarding ticket prices or orchestra. Further information will be posted on the bulletin boards next week.

Richard Hartman, co-chairman of the dance with Allan Panuska, declared that ticket price will be "below the two dollar level" and that plans were being made to contact Carl Rehling to supply the music.

The affair will be held in the midst of the Spring Term examinations. The last examination, and the last day of school, will be on Tuesday, July 15.

Plans were also announced to hold the dance in a novel "Wharf" or "Christmas in July" setting, and to make the dress "something less than informal, such as would be worn to a summer garden party."

"Several other innovations are being planned," said President of the Council Dudley Shoemaker. "The Council is concerned with the fact that recent dances at Evergreen have not been going over as well as they should."

"We believe that this is the fault of the dances themselves, and we hope to make this Council dance a model of the method that should be used to produce a good, low-priced, enjoyable, well-attended affair. Watch the bulletin boards for further information."

May Freshmen Elect Uchuck

George Uchuck was elected president of the May Freshmen Class in a closely contested election on Friday, June 14. Phil Hauswald was chosen vice-president and Thomas Cero and Leonard Saltysiak secretary and treasurer, respectively.

The four victorious candidates were chosen from a field of seven men who were nominated at a meeting on Monday, June 9. The other nominees were Robert Lange, Eugene Brost and Albert Glover.

Student Council representatives conducted the elections and counted the ballots which were distributed to the 62 members of the class. Because four ballots were not signed, they were declared void by the Committee on Elections. The new officers will serve a term of one year.

Alpha Sigma Nu Elects Chatard To Membership

The election of Dr. J. Albert Chatard, '98 to an honorary membership in the Alpha Sigma Nu Alumni Club was announced recently by Club President, George J. Miller, Jr.

One of Loyola's most active alumni, Dr. Chatard was an original member of the Alumni Physicians Group and took a prominent part in the success of the recent Chapel Campaign. At present he is on the Board of Directors of the Alumni Association.

Following his graduation from Loyola, Dr. Chatard studied medicine at Johns Hopkins University and received his M. D. degree in 1903. He was formerly on the faculty of Hopkins and is the author of numerous medical papers. At one time he was President of the Medical and Chirurgical Faculty of Maryland, and he is now Treasurer of that organization. However, he prefers to be known only as a practical physician.

In announcing the selection of Dr. Chatard as the second honorary member of the National Jesuit Honor Fraternity (Dr. Edward A. Doehler was the first), Mr. Miller said that the Club intends to make such an award each year to an alumnus who has gained recognition in his profession. According to present plans, the selection will be announced at the graduation exercises.

Lee Speech Test Set For June 27

The date for the finals of the Lee Oratorical Contest has been changed from Sunday, June 22 to Friday, June 27. It has also been announced that the eliminations will take place on Monday, June 23.

Eight finalists will be chosen from the elimination contest which will be judged by Mr. Filmyer, S. J., Mr. Fennell, Mr. Jordan, and Mr. Artola. The selections of the speakers may be original or an oratorical selection from some worthwhile source.

The judges for the finals will be Mr. Sellinger, S. J., Mr. Jordan, Mr. Stevenson, Mr. Colimore and Mr. Smith.

'Buildings In the Dell' Will House Classrooms, Offices

Temporary is hardly the word for our "buildings in the dell." Construction will be completed next month. Refinements will include landscaping and a pathway from the road.

Loyola's new "classrooms in the dell" will house the Alumni Office, the Dean of Discipline's Office, five classrooms, and five teacher's offices, it was announced by the Rev. Robert P. Arthur, S. J.

Construction on the building, under way since January, is expected to be completed by the end of the present spring term. Five classrooms will be erected in the main section of the building, but these will not be assigned until schedules are arranged for next September's classes.

Plans call also for five additional offices, which as yet have not been assigned. There is a long waiting list of unofficed teacher-applicants for them.

The building, which is located on the north side of the campus between the main road and the fence of the Garrett estate, is a former Bachelor Officers' Quarters and Administration building. Obtained

Debaters Outing Set For June 28

Loyola's Bellarmine Debating Society will bring its season to an official close with an outing on Sunday, June 28 when the members travel to the Dulaney Valley estate of William Sehlhorst, '17.

A committee of four men has been appointed to handle all arrangements for the outing. They are Dudley Shoemaker, J. Allan Panuska, Edward F. Shea and James Mitchell.

It was decided at the final meeting of the year that in case of rain on the 28th, the outing would be held on the following day. Mr. William-M. J. Driscoll, S. J., the Moderator of the group, will accompany them.

Revived Evergreen Quarterly To Be Published July 8th

Featuring an entirely new format, including new type faces and illustrations, the revived Evergreen Quarterly will appear on Tuesday, July 8. Final copy for the Summer Issue has already been received by the printing firm of Meyer and Thalheimer.

In contrast to the old Quarterly which discontinued publication during the War, the new Evergreen will be printed on magazine stock paper with a photograph on the cover. The ten point type is of a bold style insuring easy reading.

Short stories, articles and poems by members of the Student Body will appear in this issue in addition to such features as cartoons and a chronicle of events of the past year.

The policy of the magazine calls for one guest writer an issue. This issue the feature article is by Dr. Valentine De Balla, a member of the Faculty of the Evening School of Adult Education. Dr. De Balla was in Hungary during and immediately after the War and compares German and Soviet occupation of that country. His article is particularly significant in light of recent developments in Hungary. Dudley Shoemaker is chairman of the Editorial Board and Mr. Gustav E. Herzer is faculty advisor of the Evergreen.

Prom Is Social Success But Fails Financially

The Junior Prom held on June 7 was a social success but a financial failure, the officers of the class of May 1948 revealed last week. Approximately $75 was lost on the venture.

General apathy on the part of members of the Student Body, the fact that other dances were being held the same evening and the violent rainstorm on the evening of the 7th were given by J. Allan Panuska, Prom Chairman, as reasons why relatively few couples (approximately 85) attended the dance.

It has also been pointed out that only half of the members of the Class sponsoring the dance attended.

Original Date Changed

Originally scheduled for May 17, the date of the Prom was changed first because of the Queen's Ball and then because of Loyola Night which was held on May 23. The next Saturday was in the Memorial Day week-end and it was finally decided to push the date up to June 7.

It was admitted at a meeting of the dance committee that any date in early June was a bad day to hold a dance but to delay the dance until July would have meant conflict with examinations.

Ample Preparations Made

The committee in charge of publicity made sure that all students and alumni were informed of the dance and invitations were available in the cafeteria and book store over two weeks in advance.

Unique 'Ocean City' decorations were obtained free of charge and were installed by the committee headed by Joseph Davis on Friday evening. The orchestra, favors, programs, table linen, help and incidentals came to over $300.

In spite of the financial loss and inclement weather, the dance was judged a social success by those who attended. Carl Rehling's orchestra provided the music.

Less Than Half A Class At Their Promenade

ALUMNI DOINGS

By Edward A. Doehler, '30

Alumni Dance

Those who attended the first Alumni Dance in many years on Thursday, May 29, are determined that this shall become a regular part of the annual program of the Association. The dance was held in the Crystal Ballroom of the Emerson Hotel with music by Joe Bertorelli. The recent graduates of the class of 1947 were guests of the Association. The Chairman of the Dance Committee, Charles R. Broderick, is to be complimented for arranging an enjoyable evening. We may look forward to much larger gatherings of this kind in the years to come.

Congratulations To Carl F. Gottschalk, '41

Carl F. Gottschalk, '41, is receiving many congratulations these days. Besides being the proud father of a son, James Francis, born May 29th, Carl is also a recent addition to the list of members of the Baltimore Bar, having passed the Bar Examination in a tie for third place.

At Loyola, Carl was active in work with the Debating Society, Dramatics, International Relations Club and THE GREYHOUND. In his senior year he was a member of the Student Council and Editor of the 1941 Evergreen.

Weddings

A real Loyola wedding was that of Thomas J. Guidera, Jr., '47, on June 14 at St. Gabriel's Church in Washington. Tommy was married to the former Miss Kathryn T. Sweeney, a graduate of Notre Dame of Maryland.

The best man and all of the ushers were Loyola men. Benedict K. Hutson, '44, was the best man. The ushers were Pat Coughlin, '44, Andrew Geckle, '47, Maurice F. Mackey, '47, and John Fish, a student at the College.

Mrs. Guidera is the niece of the Rev. Thomas F. Sweeney, Chaplain at Notre Dame of Maryland. Tommy is the brother of Mr. John Guidera, S. J., of Wernersville, Pa., and a nephew of the Rev. John S. Hild, C. M., '30, a missionary working in the Canal Zone. The ceremony was performed by Father Sweeney and Father Hild was among the priests present in the sanctuary.

Announcement has also reached us from Germany that Richard R. Thuma, Jr., ex '42, Captain Corps of Engineers, United States Army was married on the 17th of May at Landsberg-am-Lech to Margaret Moss, daughter of Major and Mrs. Clifton Lowther Moss, Jr.

Alumni Receive University Degrees

Francis J. Mueller, '43, received the degree of Master of Arts from Johns Hopkins University on Tuesday, June 10. Franny has worked in the field of mathematics and plans to engage in teaching.

Norman Ramsey, ex '43, and Carl F. Gottschalk, '41, were graduated from the University of Maryland School of Law on June 8 with the degree of Bachelor of Laws. Both have already been admitted to the Bar.

Congratulations To Dr. and Mrs. A. Maynard Bacon, Jr.

Dr. and Mrs. A. Maynard Bacon, Jr., announce the birth of a son, Arthur Maynard, III, born at Union Memorial Hospital on May 12, 1947. Dr. Bacon, '41, was separated from the Army on May 20 as a Captain, Medical corps, and will begin a Residency in Pediatrics at the University Hospital in Baltimore, July 1.

Meet The Faculty

Mr. Edward W. Stevenson, after a seven year absence, returned to his Alma Mater, Loyola College, and became an instructor in the English Department. As a member of the Class of '39, he graduated with an A. B., majoring in English.

Entering the United States Navy in 1942, he served until June, 1946. Working his way up from an Apprentice Seaman to Lt. Commr., he was given the command of a Crash Boat and served as skipper for eight months. Finally he was transferred to a P. T. outfit and took part in the Manila-Corregidor operations in 1944. It was on Lt. Stevenson's ship that General Douglas MacArthur made his return trip to the Philippines.

Upon termination of hostilities he served as skipper of the U.S.S. Seer, a fleet mine sweeper.

Mr. Stevenson contemplates teaching as a career and plans to undertake graduate work in the near future.

When not coaching the "B" squad baseball team, he spends his leisure hours hunting, fishing and deep water sail boating. Since his return to Evergreen in the capacity of teacher, Ned has been in great demand as a toastmaster. After serving in this position at the Alumni Banquet in February, his reputation as a humorist, which he first established as author of the humor column of THE GREYHOUND in 1938-39, was re-emphasized. His latest success was the recent Athletic Banquet.

from the abandoned Hawkins' Point Naval Base, it is one-story high and contains adequate heating, lighting, and plumbing facilities.

Erection of the temporary buildings was necessitated by the expected enrollment of 1200 students next September. It was allotted to Loyola by the Federal Works Agency under the provisions of the Mead Act for veterans' educational facilities.

Letters To The Greyhound

Dept. Of Further Exposition

To the Editor of THE GREYHOUND:

Dear Sir:

While Mr. Crosby's letter in THE GREYHOUND of June 6 no doubt contains some excellent solutions as to what to do on a date, I think his statement that the Saturday afternoon This is Jazz program is good jazz is entirely misleading and that it might be construed by the uninitiated as being the unvarnished truth. Hence, some explanation is needed.

Mr. Crosby is obviously a Moldy Fig Fan, or very close to being one. Either because he is a fanatic or because he is still young in his untutored appreciation of jazz, or Mr. Crosby is a lover of a type of hot music which possesses very limited technique and emotional content, and which therefore isn't too worthy of the listener's attention and appreciation; to wit: New Orleans jazz.

The practitioners of this music love to render it just as it was played thirty years ago. As an antique, it might be tolerated, but as good jazz, never. People don't fly in planes of 1914 vintage anymore. Tremendous progress has been made. Likewise in jazz. While the men he mentioned might be classified as "musicians," they certainly can't compare with the facility and finesse of Harry James, Bill Harris and Dave Tough.

Therefore, I suggest that the readers of Mr. Crosby's otherwise fine letter save their recorders and records for a more worthy event. With such brilliant and wonderful strides having already been taken in the field of jazz by such musicians as Ellington, Herman, Kenton and Raeburn, it seems a shame that there are still people around who persist in admiring the retrogression in jazz, and who are willing, knowingly or otherwise, to lure other potential appreciative listeners of this virile music into such folly.

Joe Kohlman

To the Editor of THE GREYHOUND
Dear Sir:

On June 4, I attended the night lacrosse game at Homewood Stadium between Johns Hopkins and Mount Washington for the National Open Lacrosse Championship.

As you have probably read in the local papers, the place was packed and jammed; several authorities having been quoted as saying that it was the largest crowd that ever turned out for any game at Homewood. Parking space for automobiles was at such a premium that cars were on the grass section of the parkway on 39th Street. People were vying for standing room. Jousting mobs were sardined in for the game.

But it was a different story at Evergreen on the afternoon of June 4. The Loyola "B" baseball squad had a home game with Strayer Business College. Our team played a fine game of ball. They were hustling, fighting every inch of the way. There was a lot of action, and John Evelius pitched an excellent game. At one time the largest crowd in the stands, if you counted the members of the Faculty and the coaches, was ten people.

At the Hopkins game, there were several hundred Loyola students. These Loyola men were crowded, pushed, stepped on, shoved, etc., but they were there to see Hopkins play. Several of the cars that were tagged for illegal parking belong to Loyola men, but that didn't matter, after all they saw Hopkins play!

Funny kind of school spirit, don't you think?

Sincerely,
Bob Custer

Fr. Ayd Continues Rest; Here For Graduation

The Rev. Joseph J. Ayd, S. J., a member of the Loyola College Faculty since 1918, marched in the Commencement procession on May 25. Fr. Ayd came up for the ceremonies from Georgetown Preparatory School where he is at present recuperating from an illness which confined him in Mercy Hospital for over a month.

Although he appeared to be in excellent health, Fr. Ayd returned to Garrett Park, Md., to continue recuperating during Summer. He is expected to return to Evergreen in the fall to resume teaching his course in Sociology.

In the past Fr. Ayd's activities have included the position of Chaplain at the Maryland State Penitentiary.

Hershey Park Outing Planned

Hershey Park, Pennsylvania, has been chosen as the tentative location of the First Annual Loyola College Outing. At the present time, all arrangements are in the hands of Bill Healy who proposed the outing. Whether the event will materialize and just how successful the event will be, depends upon the reaction of the student body.

To Charter Buses

Under the present setup, buses will be chartered and will leave Loyola at nine o'clock in the morning for the Park which is in the city of Hershey. Recreational facilities will be provided and supervised by the Committee.

Saturday, July 19, has been designated as the date of the outing. According to Bill Healy, the cost for the entire day will be approximately $2.50 per person. The buses will leave Hershey in time to arrive at Baltimore at 7 P. M.

Seek Cooperation

Student interest will play a large role in the overall planning for the day. If the students react in a manner which indicates cooperation, then according to Bill, Loyola College can make this event one that will become a permanent part of future Loyola tradition. Anyone who has any ideas or comments is asked to contact Bill Healy.

Byrd Elected Drama President

Austin Byrd was elected President of the Mask and Rapier Dramatic Society on mail-in votes counted on Wednesday, June 11, with a plurality of 41 points.

Votes were counted by the point system because of the large number of candidates. Robert Custer was elected Vice-President with 31 points, Jack Downey became Secretary with 17 points, and William Carver was made Treasurer with 15 points.

Twenty-two votes were cast out of thirty-seven members of the society. Ballots were mailed to members of the society and sent to the Moderator, Mr. William-M. J. Driscoll, S. J., by return mail.

Loyola Men Form New Stock Group

A large group of the students of Loyola College are participating in the organization of a stock company which plans to present various plays and musicals throughout the city. The first meeting was held in the west hall of old Loyola High School last month.

A Constitution Committee was elected to meet and draw up a constitution to be presented at the next meeting of the group. Five of the seven members of the committee are Loyola College students.

It is expected that the first production will come sometime in early September.

Fisher Says Hypnotism Aids Classwork Marks

by William Heffner

Does anybody need a good system to beat exams?

Jim Fisher, BS II student, thinks he might have one. Fisher is a hypnotist-mentalists by hobby, and besides the usual Dunninger-style mentalism acts, forced hypnotism, and the garden-variety hypnotism routines, he has done some experiments with subjects on memory.

"While under the influence of hypnotism," Fisher told us when we talked with him in the cafeteria recently, "I've found that more things can be remembered in less time than ordinarily. I had one boy at Western Maryland hypnotized, recited a poem to him and told him to remember it when he woke up. He did."

Fisher punctuated his talks with demonstrations. "Take a card," he said. We did. "Now put it back and think about it." We did. "It's a red card, a diamond—the ace of diamonds." It was. We gasped naively.

"Anybody can do it," he said. "It's all a matter of practice and keeping your mind blank."

Fisher has been in shows ever since he saw a hypnotist as a boy. He was so interested that he picked up every book on the subject he could get hold of. Later, after he had perfected his hypnotism technique, he turned to mentalism.

One of the most dramatic routines in hypnotism is "forced sleep." Fisher can shock a subject to sleep, under suitable conditions, in under ten seconds, by voice and gestures. "Anybody can hypnotize," Fisher went on. "The subject does the real work, not the hypnotist. It's dangerous, of course, if used wrongly; but with some instruction, matching personalities of subject and hypnotist, and proper conditions, nine people out of ten can do it."

Both Army camp and civilian audiences have seen him perform. Now 23 years old, married, he has decided to enter an office instead of making shows his work. "There's money in it, though, for the performer with a good act and a good line of patter." Fisher's "patter"—the monologue during and between acts that keeps the show alive—is perhaps his outstanding quality, according to fans.

"It's really an interesting field, with possibilities not yet even dreamed of. Take, for instance, that idea of memory work while under hypnotic influence. Tremendous field."

It seemed logical to us. A professor could put a class in a trance—hypnotic trance, that is—and increase the efficiency of the class room 100%. Cramming could be reduced to a minimum, the night before conditions, with a few hypnotists around. We asked Fisher what he thought of the idea.

"Great. Anybody wants to try it, come around and we'll make arrangements."

Incidentally, Fisher has been on the Dean's List almost every quarter. He insists, however, that it has nothing to do with hypnotism or mentalism.

Friday the 13th, Proves Nemesis To Chessmen

The Loyola Chess club met the Maryland Chess aggregation at the latter's club on Charles Street on Friday evening, June 13.

Tom Comber, Chess Club president, attributed his society's 5½-½ defeat to the traditionally unfavorable auspices of the occasion. Ed Rowles was the sole scorer for Loyola.

James Bradley gave Robert Ilderton, newly-crowned State Junior Champion, a stiff battle before bowing. A return match has been set for June 27.

Dr. McHugh Named Head Of Education

Dr. William H. McHugh was appointed chairman of the Department of Education of Loyola College early this month. He will also serve as professor of Education and Psychology.

For the past 15 years Dr. McHugh has held the positions of Head of the Department of Secondary Education and Director of the Graduate Department of Education at Villanova College in Philadelphia.

Received Ph.D. From Temple

Dr. McHugh graduated from Holy Cross College in 1925 with the degree of Bachelor of Arts. Two years later he received his M. A. in Philosophy and Education from St. Bonaventure's, New York. He received his Doctorate of Philosophy in Psychology and Education at Temple University, Philadelphia.

Serving as Chairman of the Evaluating Committee on the Commission on Secondary Schools of the Middle Atlantic Association of Schools and Colleges, Dr. McHugh has also held the position of consultant on Personnel and Training at R. C. A. in Camden, New Jersey.

Books Listed

Among his publications are The American Youth Problem, What Is Character Education? and Elements of Mental Hygiene.

Contract Bridge

West certainly is a cagey little fellow. Notice the way he disguises his really strong suit, Spades, by clever bidding. I'll bet East and West would never guess he was strong in Spades. The one no trump opener was a fine bid, meaning "I'm ready for anything." South immediately passed, signifying, "I'm not."

East's three diamond force, while not exactly according to cricket, nevertheless hinted to his partner that diamonds were a little stronger than the rest of his hand. North, since he did not have a one-and-a-half honor count in his hand, and with nothing but a long string of Clubs, since Clubs weren't mentioned by anybody else anyhow, decided to drop the whole thing. Now, notice the way West misleads his opponents. Bidding 4 Hearts, they immediately jump to the conclusion that hearts are his strong suit. South's 4 notrump was clever also, forcing West to go higher and making it harder for him to win. East's 5 Spades almost gave West's little game away, and he cleverly covered up by a 6 Club bid. He might have done something if East, the oaf, hadn't passed and left him in the lurch.

Faced with the prospect of taking 12 tricks with Clubs as trumps, with only the Queen of Clubs as a trump, West suddenly remembers that he has to study for Chemistry and disappears. He hasn't been seen since.

Of course, if West had only had the sense to bid 8 no trump over his previous 6 Club bid, he could have led the Queen of clubs and when North responded to East's throw off of a Heart and South's King of Clubs, which showed that while East was strong in Spades, South was also strong in a suit, and therefore North would have to play to West's 9 of Spades on the seventh trick, immediately followed by a finesse by West through East and South for the 8 of Diamonds, North would therefore have to respect West's dominion of a suit previously led by East. He could then have laid his cards down and taken the rest of the tricks, since nobody knew what was going on anyhow.

Anybody want to join the Bridge Club?

July 13 - 19 Chosen "LittleSeniorWeek"

"Little Senior Week" is the official designation of the final week of the Spring Term according to the twenty-five Seniors who will bring their college careers to a close this year.

To celebrate the traditional week, the Seniors and their dates will travel to Betterton, Md., for a day's outing on Tuesday, July 15. The same group will attend the Student Council Dance on July 12.

Several parties at the homes of the Seniors are in the making, but nothing definite has been announced to date.

Budenz Attributes Conversion To the Intercession of Mary

"I attribute my return to the Faith to the great zeal of my parents and to the most powerful intercession of Mary, the Mother of God," asserted Mr. Louis Francis Budenz, a former communist.

Mr. Budenz, addressing the members of the Carroll Council and Manners Club of the Knights of Columbus at their annual Mass and communion breakfast in the Alcazar, on Sunday, June 1, claimed that the United States and the Catholic Church are the only two remaining bulwarks opposing the Communist advance for world domination.

Former Communist Leader

In building up his indictment against the communists, he graphically showed how diabolical and insidious are the attempts to split the Catholic laity and Hierarchy. "Documentary evidence would overflow the limits of this stage," continued Mr. Budenz, "to prove this point."

A former managing editor of the Communist party's official organ, Daily Worker, and one time member of the National Council for the direction of communist activities in the United States, Mr. Budenz is at present a member of the Economics Department at the University of Fordham.

Informed Catholics

"Catholics must not only be aroused to the pinnacle of reaction but must be informed factually so they will be sure of their ground in refutation. Another fact to be fully realized is that our own system of Democracy has its many abuses and they must be remedied if we are to sustain our own philosophy of living."

We Wish We Knew:

Why Dances Go Broke

This editorial does not answer anybody's question. We don't know. We want to expose a bad condition which does exist. Student opinion and suggested solutions are invited in the form of letters to the paper.

For some reason, school dances have a strange habit of losing money. The financial disaster at last week's Junior Prom, of course, cannot by itself be taken as a criterion. But, taken together with other dances which have either sustained a deficit or been overjoyed to break even, the situation does indicate a trend.

Why?

That's a good question; we wish someone could think of a good answer. If they don't think of one, and think of it pretty soon, the time is going to come when there won't be any dances at Evergreen. You can't talk a class into having a dance, with all the headaches that it entails, just for the love of having the event. They'd rather sit around the wait for someone else to do it, and not run the risk of sustaining a debt.

Where The Money Goes

All right, then, why is it that dances lose money? First of all, we've got to start with the proposition that the maximum revenue on any dance will not exceed $500. ($2 top per ticket times 250 couples, comfortably.) Expenses for any sort of orchestra at all, plus tables, laundry, help, tickets, etc., bring the red side of the ledger close to $400. Theoretically, then with a full gym, the maximum profit attainable is $100. Not bad!

Thing No. 2 is how to get that full gymnasium.

Ordinarily, a dance in itself should have enough appeal to draw 20 or 25% of the student body. However, it seems that after a while the students get a bit tired of the same old thing: an orchestra, tables, and a waxed floor. When that condition of apathy sets in, ticket sales begin to fall off.

A Social Success, Anyway

The Queen's Ball, a happy memory, tried to give dances in general a shot in the arm by having lavish decorations. The result was an excellent, well-attended dance, and a net profit of less than $35. To a large degree, too, these profits were the results of an upped ticket price, patron fees, and "court of honor" subscriptions. The inducement of sterling silver favors cost the Sodality $300.

Entertainment Calendar

STAGE:

Ring Around Elizabeth, a well written and well acted comedy, presented by the South Shore Dramatic Club, 8:30 P.M. this evening at the Baldwin Memorial Hall, Severn Cross Roads . . . a good tonic for low spirits.

Latest word on the Hilltop Theatre, Inc., celebrating their tenth anniversary. On the campus of Maryland College for Women, Seminary Avenue, Lutherville, Maryland, beginning at 8:45 P.M. production begins for the eleven weeks of Summer Stock.

Dream of Fair Women by Reginald Lawrence, June 23 to 28. January Thaw by William Roos, July 1 to 5, and The Animal Kingdom by Philip Barry, July 8 to 12, are among the first of their productions . . . Baltimore's oldest Summer Stock Company and the best in that field of entertainment.

MORE PLACES TO GO AND THINGS TO DO:

For you ball-playing fans here is a noteworthy suggestion. If you are interested in playing baseball there is an opportunity at the Oriole Baseball School opening at Spring Grove. Also it might be well

Another Way

Another way of throwing a dance is to cut expenses to the bone. Cheap tables, cheap orchestra, cheap tickets, and few or no decorations. If such an affair has been backed up by one or two lavish dances, it is likely to succeed; but if the rule becomes dances of this kind, sooner or later the bottom will drop out of the market: the students want their cake to eat and to have: a good dance at a low price.

Can The Student Afford It?

The plight of the veteran majority, trying to feed, clothe, and amuse itself on $65 per needs no further comment. The financial aspect of the dance situation presents an almost unsolvable problem: to meet expenses on any sort of a decent dance at all, tickets simply must be in the $2.00 bracket. More people attending fewer dances thrown by combined classes might be an answer, but there we go curtailing college social activity.

What is the answer? Again, we wish someone knew. Loyola's social activity needs a boost. It should be very interesting to note the success or failure of the planned Student Council affair in July (see page 1). The Council is trying a novel motif to pull in the crowd. Perhaps this is the answer. If it is not, we'd better find one. If we don't, it shouldn't be too long before the gym is used only for occasional proms and basketball games.

Graduate Of '43

Rev. Paul L. Love, a graduate of the class of '43, was ordained on Thursday, June 12 and sang his first Solemn High Mass at St. Thomas Aquinas' Church on Sunday, June 15.

After attending St. Thomas Parochial School and Mt. Washington Country School for Boys, Father Love was graduated from Calvert Hall College and received his Bachelor of Arts degree from Loyola College in 1943.

While at Loyola, Father Love was active in the Sodality and Dramatics and was a member of the Student Council in his Senior Year.

to be on the lookout for All American and All Star Sandlot Championships to be played here in Baltimore.

Taking a trip? There are many excursion boats running down the Bay. Think of the possibilities, a boat ride, dancing enroute, amusements, swimming, picnicing, sunshine and scenery.

The Bay Belle and the Dixie go to Seaside Park and the Bear Mountain to Tolchester Beach. Don't forget those moonlight cruises.

A few more suggestions—week-end excursions on the Old Bay Line to Norfolk and that 48 cent ride to Virginia Beach . . . a nice trip . . . the early morning train from the Western Maryland Railway station to Pen Mar Park for the day—amusements, dancing, bowling and the scenery is terrific. Last but not least we also have the Ocean City, Maryland.

Aside from these trips one may also enjoy an evening at the Park concerts given by the Park Band and the Municipal Band. Always an attractive program and a cool spot from which to listen.

To you students and Alumni, the Evergreen swimming pool is open throughout the summer semester.

Summer Marriages Indicate Cupid Still Going Strong

Wedding bells will ring for many of the students this summer. Evidently the responsibilities of the single man have not even bothered many of stout hearts that roam over the campus of Evergreen. But then—didn't some wise sage once open his lips and utter the famous words, "Two can live as cheaply as one." Of course some wise joker of the present era has said, "Two can starve as quickly as one," but we'll pass over the remark of this perpetual pessimist.

Dudley Shoemaker, president of the Student Council, will set the fashion for the College men when he and Miss Charlotte Otter exchange vows during the month of August.

Mr. William Barkley Fritz, an instructor here at Loyola and a graduate of the Class of 1943, has recently been engaged to Miss Louise Jeanette Bampfield. Miss Bampfield is a graduate of the class of '47 of Goucher College.

Jon C. Crosby, a freshman in the Ph.B. course will trod down the middle aisle of St. Bartholomew's Episcopal Church with his bride, Miss Anne Grimes on July 26. Both are graduates of Forest Park High School. Jon worked for several years as a reporter for the Evening Sun.

August 2 is the date of the wedding of Frank Scrivener, a second semester Sophomore in the Business Administration course, and Miss Anne Summers. Frank is a graduate of Calvert Hall College and is 22 years old.

Robert L. Bump, ex '43 and Miss Ellen Marie Hart are to be married at the Church of the Blessed Sacrament on June 28, of this year. Bob is a graduate of Loyola High School and also of the Merchant Marine Academy.

(If there is any other information concerning forthcoming marriages, please contact THE GREYHOUND.)

This Is My Story

—L. F. Budenz

A former member of the Communist Party in America tells the story of his return to the Roman Catholic faith in one of the most argumentative books of the season. The book is not fiction and is as "one crying in the wilderness" of modern materialistic thinking. There is no use in ignoring the Communist problem and this volume presents it without pulling any punches.

Odd Man Out

—F. L. Green

Odd Man Out is a book that combines the fierce intensity of a man-hunt and an underlying theme of regained faith. Paralleling the Infamous the story is set in Ireland and is devoted mainly to the development of the Irish character.

The manhunt begins with the murder of a factory employee by the head of a revolutionary organization, during a robbery. The head of the organization is wanted by the police for murder, by the members of the society to carry on the work and by a girl who wants to save his soul.

The police succeed in placing a cordon around him which stops the members of the society from reaching him. As the cordon tightens the girl makes her way to him through the aid of a priest who seems to know more people in Belfast than do the police.

The hunted man, Johnny, wanders through the streets mistaken for a drunk because of his weakened condition due to loss of blood. He makes his way to a pub where he is befriended by an artist who is intent on painting the portrait of a dying man and finds in Johnny his perfect subject. He is taken to the artist's studio where his wounded arm is cared for and the artist hastily paints the picture of the man who "is not long for this world." He escapes from the studio to meet his fate in a snow storm.

With this simple plot—which has not been too overworked—the author succeeds in holding the reader as the wedding guest was held by the Ancient Mariner.

Running With The Hounds

by Spence Davidson

Ever since the time, as a small lad, we were led out to old Oriole Park, hit across the face with an empty beer bottle and told to cheer for "Dem Boids" or else, we've taken what amounts to a morbid interest in baseball managers. The suave manner in which they flash signals, make grave decisions in strategy, and stand up to the umpires has intrigued us. Actually to sit beside one and watch him pilot the ship of baseball has been one of the burning desires of life. Not being at the cher ami stage with Tommy Thomas as yet, however, we've never been able to accomplish it when the Orioles were in town. By the same token, our endurance being what it is, we've never had the nerve to sneak up and watch Lefty Reitz in action. We've seen too many men banished to the track for extra laps during practice sessions to dare to incur his wrath.

The chance, however, came at last when Ned Stevenson's B Squad took the field last week. Bygones are bygones between us concerning Ned's GREYHOUND publicity in a recent issue (we took a ten point drop in our English mark with a gay, mad smile) so we were not afraid to saunter up and sit beside him while the game was in progress. It was the fourth inning and the locals had pushed over enough runs to make Ned feel comfortable and companionable. So, at long last, the ambition of a lifetime has been accomplished and we were not disappointed. Ned is as exotic in action as any coach we ever saw. Here are a few rough notes transcribed to prove it.

Note number one: undivided attention. Ned, we noticed, kept his eyes focused on his boys while they were in the field. Nothing distracted him. You got the idea that the full Marine Band (including flutes, oboes, and clarinets) could muster besides him and render The Stars and Stripes Forever fortissimo and Ned would never know they were there. They could have held the Miss America contest in front of the home team dugout and Ned would still be watching his boys and chewing his nails. On second thought, strike that last sentence from the record.

Note number two: innocence. We were particularly intrigued by the signal system Ned employs. Visiting teams please look the other way while we explain it. Ned doesn't give the signal himself; one of his henchmen sitting beside him does the dirty work. Ned just snarls instructions to him from the side of his mouth. If you weren't familiar with the system, you'd get the impression that Ned has as much to do with the signals as John Wilkes Booth had to do with the assassination of Lincoln.

Note number three: argumentation. We were anxious for awhile about whether there would be an argument for Ned to get into or not. Finally in the twentieth or thirtieth inning the umpire ruled that a pitched ball had struck an opposing batter, when it was clear to everyone on the North side of Cold Spring Lane that it had tipped his bat first. Ned growled once, roared out of his seat and was half way to the firing line when the umpire changed his mind and agreed with the majority. That, as anyone can see, left Ned with nothing to argue about. He stopped short, looked a little nonplused, and finally settled by knocking the dirt off of his cleats with the batboy's head. Then he swaggered back to his seat and sat down. We give him a big A for effort anyhow.

Other schools may brag loudly, longly and monotonously about the snow-white amateurism which surrounds their athletes and about the fact that it doesn't cost a single cent to see their sports events, but we doubt if they throw banquets quite like the one last Saturday night in the gymnasium. We'd like to say a word of thanks to Father Arthur, Lefty, and everyone who had a hand in it.

According to the Moderator of Athletics, everything is going to expand next year. More seats, more events, more players are going to be evident when the Hounds take the field in the Fall. The Athletic Association is doing its part, but the students also have a part to play. They will be responsible for producing more school spirit.

The welcome for the Texas Wesleyan basketball team was nice, but there were far less than eight hundred students attending it. The same applies when the team returned from Kansas City. The Mount Saint Mary's delegation to the final conference game in Washington certainly put Loyola to shame numerically.

There's been a lot of talk around school about cliques. Let's break that one clique that's all too small—the little group that continually follows the Hounds.

Jack Wintz, Loyola catcher, takes the throw as Dougherty of the Fort Meade All-Stars races for home. Despite the fact that the ball can be seen in Wintz's mitt, the soldier got by him and tallied with a hook slide. This was the second time that Dougherty scored during the course of the afternoon. Seven other GI's maneuvered their way home during the game.

Greyhounds Lose To Army All-Stars, 9-6

The varsity baseball nine, which was crowned the Mason-Dixon champs, ended their '47 season with a loss to the Second Army All Stars from Fort Meade, 9 to 6. The Hounds concluded with 18 wins against 9 defeats.

In its first encounter of the season with the Soldiers, the Green and Gray team was defeated 8 to 2 at Fort Meade.

Roche Pitches For Loyola

Mike Modak twirled for the Army, allowing four hits against three strike-outs. Jim Moody relieved Modak in the fourth inning giving up four more hits, but striking out nine Loyola batters. Sid Roche went the whole way on the Loyola mound. Roche was touched for fourteen hits and eight walks; he struck out ten of the soldiers.

The Second Army opened the contest with four runs, while the Hounds came back to collect half as many. In the second stanza, the soldiers collected two runs and in the fourth, three more, when John Liptak hit a home run in left center.

Whalen Hits Triple

Jack Whalen was the big stick for Loyola with a triple and double in the sixth and seventh innings, helping to add two runs in each of the innings. Jim Carmody knocked two base hits, while Ben Spurrer, Dan Boone, Johnny Amer and Sid Roche each tapped out a base knock during the contest.

The Khaki Boys added one more in the eighth, ending the scoring for the day.

Loyola Leads M-D Loop With 4 Titles

Loyola led the field with ease in the number of championships won in the Mason-Dixon conference for 1946-47. Of the nine varsity sports in which Loyola participated (lacrosse excluded, since there is no M-D stick wheel) the Hounds won four titles.

Of the other league teams, only Hopkins, with the soccer and wrestling crowns, was able to win more than one championship.

Athletic News

The new basketball scoreboard given to the College by the Block L Club has finally arrived and will be installed and ready for next season. It includes a time clock, an horn and also automatically records the scores as they are made.

Glass backboards are also on order and expected before play begins. In addition, 660 extra seats will be added to accommodate the increased crowds expected next year.

Big Sid Roche, standout performer for the Greyhound basketball and baseball teams, has signed a contract with the Philadelphia Phillies. Sid reported to the Wilmington, Delaware club, a farm team of the National League outfit, last Monday morning.

The baseball field is going to be moved before next Spring. By moving it five feet farther in, the field will have more depth in right and right-center fields. Dugouts are also to be constructed.

Greyhound Baseball Players Staff Sandlot Diamond Teams

Members of the Greyhound baseball team, having finished the college season, are now performing on sandlot baseball teams throughout the city.

Outfielder Johnny Amer, who sported a .294 batting average with the Hounds, and reserve third baseman Freddy Olinger are sparking the Moose Athletic Association in their drive towards the County Unlimited championship. Their hitting records stand at a respectable .310 and .312.

Hard Hitters

Shortstop Jim Carmody and catcher Jim Stevens are rapping the ball hard for City Express of the Eastern Association League. Each have hit a homer and two doubles so far. Harry Shock, Loyola first sacker, is hitting .312 for Hampden A.C. of the Baltimore League.

Bill Carroll, the Greyhound pitcher responsible for a neat no-hit, no-run effort against American University last month, has been playing the outfield for Arcadia, the league leaders in the Maryland Club circuit. With the collegiate season ended, Bill will take his turn on the mound for Arcadia.

Loyola Golfers Down Scranton In Final Match

Playing on the beautiful and long, 6792 yard Scranton Country Club course, the Hound golfers defeated the determined linksmen of Scranton University, 3½-2½ to end the season with 10 wins and 2 defeats.

The Scranton Country Club is the home of the Anthracite Open, a tournament which draws the top professionals in the country. Settled high in the Pocono Mountains, it is beautifully laid out with rolling fairways and greens flanked by deep sand traps.

Steady Drizzle

The four man team from Loyola, consisting of Leo Haslbeck, Len Saltysiak, Tom Gisriel and Frank Catania, teed off in a steady drizzle which continued throughout the match and proved a handicap to both teams.

At the end of the first nine holes it was evident that the match was going to be close. Leo Haslbeck was 6 up but Len Saltysiak and Tom Gisriel were both one down and Frank Catania was all even with his opponent.

Hounds Buckle Down

On the back nine the Hounds buckled down and displayed better golf. Leo Haslbeck shot a one over par 38, defeating his opponent 7 and 6, to capture medalist honors with a 78. Len Saltysiak shot an even par 37 to down his opponent 2 up and register an eighteen hole total of 79.

Tom Gisriel, after being 3 down on the twelfth, collected four pars on the remaining six holes to halve his opponent to collect the winning half point and card a total of 86. Frank Catania, who ran into trouble on the greens when his putts failed to drop, lost 5 and 3 to his opponent.

Summary:

Leo Haslbeck, Loyola, defeated Frank Serino 7 and 6.

Len Saltysiak, Loyola, defeated Sam Ciccotelli, 2 up.

Best Ball won by Loyola, 4 and 3.

Tom Gisriel, Loyola, halved Ed Matushik, Scranton.

Bob Fitzgerald, Scranton, defeated Frank Catania, 5 and 3.

Best Ball won by Scranton 4 and 3.

Home run king Tommy Lind is applying his fielding and slugging talents in behalf of the Cowan Freight Company team. Neill Cole, who won four and lost one during the season, is alternating between first base and the outfield for the Chilton A. C. Eddie Rommel is holding down the hot corner for the same club.

Another Loyola pitcher, Dick Farace is doing the twirling chores for the Oak Pleasure Club of the North Baltimore Major League. Dick was the workhorse of the Greyhound pitching staff, winning six out of nine contests.

The Horrigans

The Horrigan twins, Jack and Dick, are outstanding hitters for the Saint Elizabeth nine, which is leading the Eastern Intermediate League. Dan Boone, who recorded the second highest batting average for the Hounds, plays for Ellicott City.

Pitchers Ray Bevans and big Sid Roche are playing for the Fitzberg Club. Bucky Ward and pitcher John Evelius belong to St. Mark's of the Catholic Unlimited League.

A. A. Banquet

Greyhound Teams Honored; Monograms, Awards Given

Celebrities, guests and Loyola sports fans in general attended the seventh annual Athletic Association Awards Dinner last Saturday evening in the Evergreen gymnasium, as one hundred fifty Greyhound athletes were honored for making the year of 1946-47 the most successful in the school's athletic history.

Over two hundred and fifty were in the audience as the A. A. paid tribute to the ten varsity teams.

Stevenson Toastmaster

Ned Stevenson, popular member of the faculty and coach of the B squad basketball and baseball teams, acted as toastmaster. Principal speakers were Nick Campofreda and Bailey Goss, outstanding local sports commentators.

Fifteen trophies were arranged on the long speaker's table, five of them the property of the school for having won the various championships and ten which were awarded to individual players for outstanding contributions to the success of their teams.

Lacy Wins Trophy

Highlight of the awards was the presentation of the Adam Hat Sports Welfare Trophy to Jim Lacy. It is given to the athlete in the school who is considered the outstanding sportsman by the vote of the student body. Lacy won the award by an overwhelming margin.

In making the award, Lefty Reitz, director of athletics, said: "It gives me sincere pleasure to award this trophy to not only one of the greatest, but the greatest player who ever performed on this court for Loyola College—Mr. Jim Lacy."

Alumni Awards Made

The Rev. Edward B. Bunn, S. J., president of Loyola, and the Rev. Robert P. Arthur, S. J., delivered interesting talks on the progress of athletics at the college.

Jerome Egan, '32, president of the Alumni Association, gave a short address and followed with several surprise awards. The annual Alumni award, given to the athlete who contributes the most to the school, was given to Jim Lacy for ranking second among the U. S. college scorers with 667 points.

Stevenson then announced that the alumni will give annually a small trophy to the player in each major sport who has shown the most loyalty, cooperation, team spirit and hustle. The following received the trophies: Track—Ray Lelii; Swimming—Bruz Dailey; Soccer—Bill Linz; Basketball—Wish Galvin; Baseball—Tommy Lind; Golf—Leo Haslbeck; Lacrosse—Ray Wittlesberger; Cross Country—George Brown; Tennis—Frank Scrivener; Wrestling—Jack Enoch.

Seniors Receive Letters

Because of uncontrollable circumstances, most of the varsity monograms did not arrive, and only seniors were given their letters. The following graduates were

Lacrosse Team Routs Lehigh; Bob Rogers Scores Four Goals

by Don Fay

Although inclement weather in general and a heavy downpour just before gametime made playing conditions exceedingly poor, Loyola's freshmen-dominated lacrosse team flashed its best form of the season in gaining its first victory of the year, 10-5, from Lehigh University at Evergreen. It was the season's finale for Bish Baker's forces, who wound up their spring activities with a 1-7 log.

Bobby Rogers, outstanding attackman all year, led the winners' point output with four goals.

Rogers Scores Four

Rogers, who did his prep stick work at Polytechnic, authored the finest individual exhibition of the campaign in the tilt, not only because of the quartet of tallies, but due to his outstanding team work and passing.

After a slow start in the first period, in which only one point was recorded, the Hounds rolled on all cylinders in the second period for five goals, and netted four more in the last half.

Wittlesberger, DeLisle Star

Ray Wittlesberger and Bob DeLisle, a pair of freshmen who played at City College and Mt. St. Joseph, respectively, also turned in commendable performances, Wittlesberger making the finest play of the contest with a solo dash the length of the field for a score, and DeLisle contributing two neat goals to the Greyhound cause.

Hank Walker, Ed Hughes, Bob Miller were the other Hound scorers. Baker sent his entire squad into the contest.

Hounds Win New Trophies With Four Champion Teams

The trophies on the table are, left to right: the Mason-Dixon Baseball Trophy, symbolic of this year's title; Mason-Dixon Conference Basketball tournament trophy; the M-D tennis championship cup; the conference basketball league prize; the Adam Hat Sports Welfare Trophy, which was won by Lacy, voted the school's outstanding athlete. Not in the picture is the golf trophy, which was also won by Loyola this spring.

By winning four championships, three in the spring, Loyola athletes established a new record for a single year. Coaches of the championship teams were: Lefty Reitz, chief of the basketball and baseball squads; Vince Colimore, guide of the tennis team; Rev. William Herlihy, S. J., coach of the golfers.

Sports Review

The next issue of THE GREYHOUND will review Loyola sports since last September by reprinting the best sports shots appearing on its pages during the year. Jack Phillips, Photography Editor of the paper, will select the photos. Students are invited to mention to the Sports Editor any photographs they would like to see reprinted.

B-Squad Takes Three Games, Loses One

The B-Squad baseball team, coached by Ned Stevenson, has completed a short but successful season. The opening game with Loyola High ended in a 3-3 tie. Johnny Evelius kept the Dons in check, while Ed Hart led the attack. Although never having played together before, Ned's crew of young ball players showed much promise.

The next game played at Clifton Park against the Veterans Institute found the Hounds on the wrong end of a 12-8 score. The Vets shelled Dick Yeisley for 15 hits, but the B-Squad also showed its power. Bucky Ward had a perfect day at bat with 4 for 4, including a home run and a double. Highlight of the game was Vince Bagli's pinch-hit home run, which sailed far over the center fielder's head. George Krug broke into the hit column with two sharp singles to center.

First Victory

Strayer's Business College was the next opponent. Ned Stevenson deserves a great deal of the credit for this victory. The junior team produced only one hit, this by Vince Bagli, but the final score was 4-2. The coach had his players taking two pitches before swinging. This forced the opposing pitcher to tire and issue many fatal walks in the late innings. Loyola took advantage of every walk, stolen base and error to gain its first victory.

Franny Fick was given the mound assignment in the return game with the Veteran Institute. Fick pitched steady ball and the B-team won 4-2. Frank Linardi and Vince Bagli continued to show their ability to hit with men on bases, while the double play combination of Carmody to Woytowitz to Hart kept the Vet's scoring down to a minimum.

Yeisley Wins

The final game of the season was a return engagement with Strayer's Business College. Dick Yeisley received credit for his first win. Strayer's took a 4-0 lead in the first two innings but Loyola bounced back with a five run outburst in the third. Jimmy Feild, the Catonsville Comet, couldn't be stopped. He punched out three hits and stole four bases. Larry Smith, the little backstop with the fine arm, also assisted in the attack. The final score was 9-4 in favor of Loyola.

Several of these B-Squad players show promise of being varsity material for next season. Murray Carmody has the needed experience to fill in at any position and perform in creditable style. Jimmy Feild should move up if he can continue the hitting he has displayed this season.

Frank Linardi also proved, in the few games he played, that he is a heavy hitter. Batting in the clean-up spot, he drove in several important runs with timely base hits. On the defensive, he held down the left field position in fine style.

Absent when the picture was taken were John McCollum, Ed McGinty, Bill Mullikan, Al Mutelis, and Al Trucker.

Thaler And Scrivener To Compete in Tourney

The Reverend Robert P. Arthur, S. J., moderator of athletics, has announced that Loyola will be represented at the Eastern Intercollegiate Tennis Tournament by Bill Thaler and Frank Scrivener. The tournament matches will be held at Montclair, New Jersey, from June 30 until July 6.

Bill Thaler won the recent intrasquad tournament held by Coach Vince Colimore by defeating Scrivener in five sets. He played in the number one spot on the tennis team this year and comes from a family of tennis players. Thaler graduated from the College this May and at present is waiting to enter the Catholic University graduate school on a fellowship in physics.

Was Champion

Thaler was the Maryland Junior Singles champion during his high school days at Loyola High and later teamed with Jim Lacy, also a member of this year's squad, to take the Maryland Senior Public Parks Doubles Championship.

Frank Scrivener, who performed in the number two position, was instrumental in helping the team capture the Mason-Dixon tennis championship this season. He was a main contender on last year's team after returning from the Service.

Fine Record

Scrivener chalked up a fine record in conference competition during the season. In thirteen matches played, he won eleven and dropped two.

Despite the fact that they will run up against some of the finest collegiate performers on the Eastern seaboard, both have the talent and experience to make an excellent showing.

Burgess Turns Pro

Losing Ward Burgess to the professional ranks is going to be deeply felt on the Loyola golf teams of the next few seasons. Ward, in his freshman year, was one of the big three of this year's championship team.

Ward has signed on as assistant pro at Clifton Park. He considers himself very fortunate to be working under such a fine golfer as Johnny Bass. His duties will entail working in the golf shop, assisting Johnny, possibly giving lessons in the future, and playing in professional-amateur tournaments.

In future years many prospective golfers will hear that friendly Kentucky drawl instructing them in the do's and don'ts of golfing. Everyone in the College wishes him the best of luck in his new job.

Brown Holds Record For Two - Mile Run

The only new track record of the season was set in Loyola's first meet of the spring season by George Brown, Loyola's track captain and star two miler. In his first effort of the season, Brown lowered Jim Ball's five year old record to a time of ten minutes, thirty nine and nine-tenths seconds, and then went on undefeated in the Mason-Dixon conference until the championship meet at Delaware University, when he ran second to Bob Portmess of Johns Hopkins.

Brown broke one other record this season at Gallaudet College, setting a mark of ten minutes, forty and six-tenths seconds. His best mark of the season was 10:32, which he registered against Portmess in the championship contest.

In the first meet of the season a new team record was set by American University when they aggregated 104 points against the Greyhounds' 26. The highest scorer of the day was Nencioni, who took first place in the one hundred yard dash, the two-hundred yard dash, and the broad jump, and was on the winning mile relay team.

Trackmen Lose To St. Joe's In Finale

St. Joseph's (Philadelphia) walked off with an easy 112 to 14 victory over Loyola's outclassed track team, as the Hound cindermen closed their season in a constant down-pour on the winners' track.

Bob McElroy's boys failed to win a single event, and their only points were registered by a trio of second places and a pair of single third positions. Jack McCollum made the best showing of the squad, placing second in both the high jump and the broad jump departments. Lou Roche finished third in two events, the 100 yard dash and the 220 yard dash. George Brown, obviously bothered by the drenched track, managed to grab a well earned third place in the two mile run. His time was over eleven minutes.

Despite the adverse weather conditions, the meet was well attended by a crowd of partisan fans.

The defeat brought the seasonal record to five setbacks against a single win. This lone victory was recorded over Towson Teachers, 69-31.

A. A. Banquet

awarded letters and sweaters, the champion team players also receiving gold balls: Jack Arthur, basketball (mgr.); Ray Bevens, baseball and soccer; Bill Cahill—golf and basketball (mgr.); Jerry Crawford—golf; Bruz Dailey—swimming; Leon Greenbaum—swimming; Bill Linz—soccer; Ed McGarry—basketball and baseball; Gene O'Connor—basketball; Sid Roche—basketball and baseball; Berny Saltysiak—basketball and golf; Bill Thaler—tennis; Ed McKenna—basketball (mgr.); Jack Wintz—baseball and B squad basketball.

Reitz awarded the prizes to the seniors, and also read the list of undergraduates receiving monograms. In his short address, he stressed the fact that Loyola was now on the sports map, and that this was due to the work of the athletes who worked so diligently to bring about such a successful season.

Entertainment was supplied by a series of comedy skits by Jim Stephens and Jim Carmody, and a clever magic show by Cy Keller.

Softball League Winners To Receive Gold Medals

The Loyola Athletic Association will award gold medals to the members of the team winning the championship of the Intramural Softball League, Bob DeLisle, president of the league, announced in a recent interview.

Ten teams, each scheduled to play nine games, began play on May 12th. No team will participate in more than two games each week.

League Leaders

Strongest teams in the circuit are the "Lost Weekend" and the "Higgies Huskies" outfits, but other teams are pushing to take over the league lead.

In order to speed play in the limited time in which the game can be played, a list of regulations has been drawn up. One strike constitutes a strikeout, two balls draw a walk, and three fouls are an automatic out.

Closes In July

The season is scheduled to close on July 16th. The team having the highest percentage, determined by wins and losses, will be declared the winner of the league. To remedy schedule conflicts and facilitate play, DeLisle is asking for suggestions from the student body.

Rules For Admission To Graduate School Listed

For those students whose intentions are to take graduate courses upon completion of their undergraduate work at Loyola, there is a dire necessity that they do their utmost to obtain high marks and maintain the highest scholastic average of which they are capable.

Such action is imperative if they desire to be accepted at one of the nation's now overcrowded graduate institutions. Schools are now in a position in which they can virtually choose the students whom they wish to study at their institutions.

If the undergraduate actually wishes to pursue further learning, there are a few general rules and regulations by which he should guide his ways so that he will not suddenly find himself faced with innumerable obstacles.

Most medical schools and institutions which offer work in advanced fields have a relatively fixed quota. This is the result of the fact that they are limited by the number of laboratories, clinics and other working facilities.

On the other hand, many of the schools offering graduate work in languages and the classics have a fairly elastic quota. This indefinite quota is largely dependent upon the number of seats which can be squeezed into the classroom.

It is vital that the undergraduate make application in the early Spring, if possible—or immediately at the end of the final examinations. It's too late to make application after all quotas have been met. Your average and scholastic standing will do you little good if you miss the boat and fail to register in time.

Remember then these three rules:

1. Do your best to keep your scholastic average high.
2. Make application as soon as possible.
3. Some schools have a greater percentage of graduate quotas for hometown students. Keep them in mind.

Dean's Office To Be Moved

Tentative plans are being formulated for the removal of the Dean's Office to one of the classrooms on the first floor of the Library Building, according to information released by the Rev. Matthew G. Sullivan, S. J., Dean of Studies. Father Sullivan announced that the change would probably take place in the Fall and that the new office would be located in either Room 103 or 104.

The office of the Evening School of Adult Education and Business Administration will be moved from its present location next to the Treasurer's Office and will occupy the office which will be vacated by the Dean's Office.

Mr. Joseph May, the Assistant Treasurer, will occupy the old Evening School office after the changes are affected. That office was formerly occupied by Mr. May until space conditions became such that it was necessary to consolidate as many offices as possible.

Alumni Bowlers

All Loyola Alumni who are interested in the newly-formed Bowling League are invited to attend a meeting in the Alumni Office at Evergreen on July 17, 1947, at 8 o'clock in the evening. It is planned that officers will be elected to guide the infant activity through its first season.

Thus far, it appears that there will be two teams representing the class of January '43, and one each for the classes of '28, '35, '41, and October '43.

Bowling enthusiasts who have not yet enrolled may enter the league by contacting Francis J. Mueller at Tuxedo 6929 or by merely attending the forthcoming meeting.

Veterans Plan Support Of Subsistence Bill

The Veterans' Club had its first meeting of the Summer Term on June 4. During this meeting a motion was made to the members that the Club write a letter to a Maryland representative in Congress requesting support on the bill to increase the subsistence allotment for both single and married veterans in school under the G. I. Bill of Rights.

A recent poll taken among the students of Loyola College revealed that 74% were in favor of an increase in subsistence while attending school.

President Richard Hartmann stated that immediate action would be taken to support the bill. Mr. Hartmann further said that plans were being made to hold either a shore party or a moonlight trip on the bay for the members of the Club.

SIGNS OF SPRING: Students find that the weeks after the first of June aren't particularly conducive to study.

1947 Yearbook Will Appear In Early July

The first week in July has been designated by the Senior Class as the period of distribution for the 1947 Evergreen yearbook.

Containing 125 pages, the Evergreen will record all the activities of the student body for the complete academic year. Well over three hundred photographs report graphically the Senior class individually, undergraduate classes, the five major sports, and the student clubs and organizations.

Although most of the copies have been reserved, a few will be available after subscription contracts have been fulfilled.

Evergreen's Mr. Fixit, That's Brother Fitzpatrick, S. J.

While his more formal title is "Superintendent of Buildings," Brother Lawrence J. Fitzpatrick, S. J., is more familiarly thought of as general repairman extraordinaire at Evergreen.

When a "little leak" was reported in the Chateaux some time ago, the inmates of the House of Commons knew whom to call. Arriving on the scene, Bro. Fitz plunged into a veritable flood. Call a plumber? Not so with Loyola's jack-of-all-trades. The situation was well in hand in short order.

In Charge Of Chapel

Included in his duties is complete charge of the Students' Chapel. He also prepares the Altar for First Friday devotions in the gymnasium at the beginning of each month.

When superintending duties are not too pressing, Brother Fitz finds time for his unusual hobby of transferring photographs from newspaper to wood. (Prospective hobbyists are invited to see the Brother for details; the process involves varnishing pine, placing the photographs face down on damp varnish, drying, and rubbing off the back of the picture.)

Double Error

Once, while a Novena of Grace was being held in the Chapel, a certain gentlemen kept addressing Brother Fitz as "Father." After the fourth time, Brother corrected him, "I'm sorry, but I am not a Father; I'm a Brother." "That's O.K.," replied the other, "I'm only a Protestant."

A member of the Society of Jesus since 1935, Brother Fitzpatrick's career has included immigration from England, elementary school in Philadelphia, experience with a theatrical group in that city, and a rather disappointing stay with the Army in 1924. He tried to transfer to the then fledgling Air Corps, was turned down, and quit after one hitch.

Loyola Night Profits To Help Decorate Gym

Proceeds from the revived Loyola Night festivities will be used to purchase decorations for the gymnasium, according to Mr. William-M. J. Driscoll, S. J., faculty director of the event. Net profits for the evening amounted to approximately one hundred and fifty dollars.

Also under consideration is a plan to purchase materials necessary to erect a portable stage in the gym so that plays and meetings may be held here at Evergreen. Along with the stage, it has been proposed that scenery and props be purchased.

In order to furnish the proper settings in the gym, it is necessary for the various organizations to rent decorations for the evening from sources outside the school. This involves numerous problems because of the fact that the gymnasium is extremely difficult to decorate. However, it is hoped that with the purchase of decorations, these difficulties will be eliminated.

Bridge Players Begin Instruction Classes

A new activity, the Loyola College Bridge Club, held its first meeting last week (June 3) in room 204, and plans were completed to carry out its main objective: every neophyte a player in only four lessons.

The club's 26 original members (more are invited) were divided into 3 groups: beginners, advanced players, and teachers. The beginners group is the largest. With schedules arranged, classes began Friday, June 6 and will continue until the end of the summer term.

"We hope to enter intercollegiate competition next fall," said Robert Custer, head instructor in the course.
